38th Digital Avionics Systems Conference

“UTM to ATM Airspace Integration – Role of Spectrum, AI, Machine Learning and Automation”

Digital Avionics Systems Conference September 8 – 12, 2019, San Deigo, CA, USA

EXHIBITOR INFORMATION

Position your organization as a thought leader in the industry, foster technology knowledge, and connect with the people who move our industry forward.

- Your participation provides you the opportunity to show that your organization is relevant to what is important, interesting, and developing in avionics and aviation, space, unmanned systems, and air traffic management to major government, industry, and academic players gathered together in a same location.
- This is an IEEE/AIAA conference and the 38th DASC – A conference with a long, established role as a leader in these technical fields, organized by the two most relevant and recognized societies in aviation and avionics, offering a program that is uniquely practical in its mix of avionics industry and academics.
- The DASC provides numerous opportunities including technical sessions, interactive forums, plenary and panel sessions, workshops, technology exhibitors, and a wide variety of other technical activities to connect with other members of the avionics & aviation community. There is not another event in the avionics field that offers access to as many industries or academic experts, or provides an elite forum to exchange ideas and meet the people who move our industry forward.

Exhibit Fee: The fee for an exhibit booth (only) is $2,300. Exhibit includes 8’ x 10’ space (with table and 2 chairs) and inclusion of exhibitor information in the conference packet. The exhibit fee and booth space is included with any DASC sponsorship package ($2,500 minimum).
